Points to remember when applying (Please also read the Q&A on Pg. 5)

- Students that applied and were accepted as nominees for the 1st round of applications cannot apply in this 2nd round of applications.
- Students that were not accepted as nominees for the 1st round of applications can apply anew this round of applications. Please do your best to submit details that make evident that you are in a difficult financial situation.
You can correct what you've entered in the application form by re-entering your information. However, this can only be done during the application period. Corrections cannot be made after the application period ends. Your application will be assessed using the information that you last entered.
- Please review these guidelines and the Q&A on the following page, and make your own judgments in regard to the documents that you will need to submit. Please refrain from making too many inquiries, as doing so may interfere with the selection process.
- Please take caution with the following matters when filling out the application form:
 - (1) When trying to log into the application form while logged into CAMPUS WEB (when checking manaba+R or using other functions), an error message may appear. If logging in directly from the error screen, and the application form does not appear, log out, close the browser and log into the application form again in a new browser.
 - (2) If filling out the application takes too long, it may time-out, so please take precautions by temporarily saving application data.

■ ■ Q&A ■ ■

- [Q1] Do I need to fully meet the eligibility requirements to receive the payment?
[A1] We ask that you meet the requirements, but you can apply even if there is an item you cannot meet. We will make a comprehensive judgment based on the content you have reported (certifying documents and the content of open-ended questions). However, in the unlikely event that there is a false statement in your information, you may have to return your payment.
- [Q2] Am I unable to apply if I don't have all the necessary documents? Also, do I need to submit documents that are marked optional?
[A2] If you do not have all of the necessary documents, and cannot submit them, you can still apply with self-reported information. However, if you do so, please do your best to submit details that make evident that you are in a difficult financial situation. In the unlikely event that there is a false statement in your information, you may have to return your payment.
- [Q3] Is there an age requirement?
[A3] There is no age requirement.
- [Q4] Am I eligible even if I'm on leave from school or studying abroad?
[A4] Even if you are on leave from school or studying abroad, you are eligible as long as you meet the requirements for payment.
- [Q5] What period do I need to show in the photocopy of my bankbook showing my monthly allowance?
[A5] Please submit material from January 2020 or later.
- [Q6] Am I ineligible if I'm a student who lives in my family's home or if I don't have to pay rent?
[A6] This benefit covers school expenses and other expenses that would normally be covered by income from part-time work earned independently of the applicant's family, and it supports students and others who have difficulty continuing their studies due to the impact of COVID-19. Therefore, students who live in their family homes or do not have to pay rent are not immediately excluded from eligibility. If you are a student living at your family home but have not received any financial support for school and other expenses from your family, please select the appropriate item on the application form.
- [Q7] Can I still apply if I just began school in April and have not had a decrease in my income from part-time work?
[A7] If you are planning to work part-time and you are unable to earn the income you were supposed to earn, you are eligible for payment. Please enter your expected annual income from part-time work on the application form.
- [Q8] Can I receive both this fund and the "Ritsumeikan University Emergency Support Benefits" (Application Closed: June 16th, Payment Amount: 90,000 yen) offered by Ritsumeikan University?
[A8] Yes, you can.
- [Q9] If I apply, am I guaranteed to be accepted?
[A9] Examinations are conducted based on the contents of your applications, so there is no guarantee that you will be accepted. The examination will be conducted based on what you have entered in the application form, with priority given to students who are having the greatest difficulty in continuing their studies.
- [Q10] What kind of file formats can I use when submitting the photo data in the application form?
[A10] Please submit general photo data (JPEG, PDF, etc.). Only one file can be submitted per submission item. Please keep the total file size for all attachments within 100 MB.
- [Q11] Are there any financial institutions that I can't use to accept bank transfers?
[A11] The following financial institutions cannot be used:
 Foreign banks, Internet-only banks (Rakuten Bank, Japan Net Bank, etc.), and other specified banks (Shinsei Bank, Aozora Bank, Seven Bank)
- [Q12] How do I know whether I was selected for the support payment?
[A12] Students that are selected will receive a wire transfer directly from JASSO to their bank account. The wire transfer is the notification of the application decision. The payment will be transferred in August. (as stated in the guidelines on the previous page).
- [Q13] I applied for the 1st Government-funded "Emergency Student Support Payment" for Continuing Studies Application Guidelines. Can I apply again for the 2nd?
[A13] If you applied and were accepted as a nominee for the 1st round of applications, you cannot apply in this 2nd round of applications. If you were not accepted as a nominee for the 1st round of applications, you can apply, but please submit details that make evident that you are in a difficult financial situation.
