Study in Kyoto Program 2021-2022

Ritsumeikan University

“Why SKP?,,

The Study in Kyoto Program (SKP) offers you a great opportunity to study at Ritsumeikan University (RU), utilizing the extensive historical and cultural resources of the ancient city of Kyoto. The program is a non-degree study abroad program with a well balanced curriculum of both academic and cultural course selections through three tracks of study. Enrollment in the program is flexible; you can apply to the track that best suits your needs.

A taste of Japan

Giacomo Becchi Italy

When I was finishing my bachelor’s degree, I decided to plan an international experience focused on improving my Japanese skills. I decided to opt for two main reasons: the first one was its Intensive Japanese Language track (IJL) and the second one was the possibility to join, along with the Japanese courses, a high number of international relations courses. Thanks to that, I had both the opportunity to strengthen my language skills through a complete and thorough Japanese program and to take part in interesting discussions and lectures on modern international relations issues. Furthermore, the campus allowed me to meet people from all over the world and to meet new friends. Living the “Campus Life” led me to join one of the university clubs, and it was such an amazing experience to understand the real life of a Japanese university student. Living in Kyoto for six months gave me a wide and true taste of Japan. Its lively city life offers everything a student could ask for.

Activities that sparked my interest

Eliska Sikulova Slovakia

An unforgettable part about my SKP experience must be the extracurricular activities. SKP offered a wide range of different activities that students could participate in. Whether it was related to music, drawing, manga, Chinese, sports or dance, everyone could find something that sparked their interest. I was not sure whether I would manage with my poor Japanese skills at first. However, it turned out that when it comes to things you enjoy doing you do not really need a language to communicate. We could not say much to one another, but we could definitely play some great music together. The sport brought us much closer with fewer words. As the time went on, I found myself being able to communicate with my Japanese circle friends much better. Another important aspect of my journey was a dormitory experience. I created deep bonds with the people there and keep on being close to them. I wish my semester in Japan was longer and that I could keep on enjoying the wonderful atmosphere, food and people that made my stay there unforgettable.

SKP Students

SKP receives many international students from all around the world and strives to promote internationalism in its education. In 2018, there were approximately 230 students from Europe, North and South America, Asia, Southeast Asia, and Oceania. Our students create a global atmosphere providing linguistic and cultural diversity.

Chances to interact with people

Cheng Da Kok Singapore

A plethora of academic courses taught in English for students to choose from, and thus I could easily find courses which I was interested in from the OSE track. Classes generally have both foreign and Japanese students attending so there are plenty of chances to interact with people from different backgrounds. There are many opportunities to discuss and work together on various projects. These experiences were one of the key takeaways of the program. While this required some of us to leave our comfort zones, it was an important step forward. The people you meet and work with might just become your lifelong friends. Apart from just academics, RU also allows students to have an opportunity to experience traditional Japanese culture such as wagashi making that enriches the overall university experience. Looking back, I enjoyed my time at RU and would encourage others to consider SKP.

Admission Requirements

SKP offers numerous courses in Japanese language and culture. The Program also offers courses in English on Japan and business-related subjects through three different tracks. You will be able to apply to the track that best suits your needs. Please check the admission requirements below for each of the tracks.
