

CALL FOR PAPERS

RITSUMEIKAN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS vol.21

*Institute of International Relations and Area Studies
January 2024*

The Institute of International Relations and Area Studies (IIRAS) has been leading various research projects that aim to explore the nexus between international relations theories and empirical area studies. It has put emphasis on major global issues, including peace-building, regional integration, transnational movement, and global governance, with strong attentions to the Asia-Pacific and European regions. IIRAS publishes its journal, Ritsumeikan International Affairs, in order to disseminate research in our field and share its findings with scholars all over the world. With this Call for Papers, we strongly encourage you to submit your writings for publication.

The following are the requirements for submission:

Eligibility: applicants must meet at least one of the following requirements

1. A faculty member of Ritsumeikan University
2. A member of a project sponsored by IIRAS
3. A graduate student at Ritsumeikan University
4. A person who is requested by IIRAS to submit a manuscript

Format: articles, research notes or book reviews related to international affairs or area studies

Publication: manuscripts approved by the editorial committee will appear in the Journal

Note: unless the contributor is a professor or associate professor of Ritsumeikan University, the submitted manuscript is basically subject to peer review. Those who satisfy eligibility requirement 4 will not need to take the committee examination.
